BERTONI 1949 FREEDOM COLLECTION

Following previous seasons' incursions into both a Western atmosphere and a Thirties' gangster mood, for Fall/Winter 2016 the Milan-based luxury accessories brand presents a men's collection echoing New York's workwear-inspired aesthetic.

An artsy approach perfectly combines with the artisanal attitude defining Bertoni's 1949 polished and sophisticated creations.

A tribute to the cultural tradition of the United States, the word "Freedom" is hand-painted on a French calf body bag, while paint stroke brushes create an abstract floral-like pattern punctuated with rivets.

This peppers a range of high-end pieces, spanning from an elegant full-grain double-handle briefcase to duffle bags, weekend styles, as well as the new lightweight four-wheel trolley case, which is both practical and chic.

Bertoni's 1949 signature trunks, including a new style featuring multiple drawers, come both in the season's painted floral motif and in the iconic black and white version.

The brand also introduces a new soft backpack, which is available in a range of variations, including a hyper-luxury alligator option.

Season after season, Bertoni 1949, which is loyal to its prestigious heritage deeply rooted in the finest Italian artisanal tradition, continues to inject a fresh, unconventional twist into its refined, noble aesthetic.
